life saving pamphlets. Some volunteers have already turned in envelopes. In case someone is missed, a telephone call to Mrs. Jamerson or any of the Unit officers will make it possible to make a contribution. Or, a donor can send a check directly to Mrs. Mary Alma Hudson, treasurer of the Unit.

Mrs. Jamerson was high in her praise of the forty volunteers who are completing the canvass.

Memorial gifts, that is, a contribution to the Cancer Society in memory of a loved one, also helps the county to meet its Fair Share goal each year. These gifts can be sent directly to Mrs. Hudson, the treasurer.

Color Change Planned

This method will provide an extra reminder to motorists leaving multi - lane highways, such as the interstate system, and entering two-lane roads that on-coming traffic will be in the adjacent lane, Pierce explained.

"In other words, if the lane line is dashed yellow, it's a two-lane road and if the line is dashed white, it's a multi-lane roadway," he said.

He added that serious accidents have occurred in the past as a direct result of drivers mistakenly thinking they were on a multi-lane divided highway when in fact they were traveling on a two-lane facility. The change in line color is intended to add a new precaution against such accidents.

The change already has been made on a few miles of highway at scattered locations in Virginia, but during 1972 the Department of Highways will make the complete changeover as part of its annual program of restoring worn pavement markings, Pierce said.

The changes will be made on about 1,000 miles of highways in the 10-county Lynchburg highway district.

The Pastor Speaks

"For Springs or Scrap-heap"
"For ye are his workmanship"
Eph. 2:10.

A blacksmith about eight years after his conversion was approached by an intelligent unbeliever with this question, "Why is it you have so much trouble? I have been watching you since you trusted Christ as your Saviour and began to 'walk square' and you seem to love everybody and you seem to have twice as many trials and accidents as you did before. I thought that when a man gave himself to God his troubles were over."

With a thoughtful but glowing face, the blacksmith replied, "Do you see this piece of steel? It is for the springs of a carriage but it needs to be tempered. I heat it again and bend it and shape it so that it will be suitable for a carriage. Often I find the steel too brittle and cannot be used. If so, I throw it on the scrap-heap. Those scraps are worth less than one cent per pound but this carriage is valuable.'

He paused and the listener nodded. The blacksmith continued "God saves us for something more than to have a good time. That's the way I see it. We have the good time all right, but he wants us for service. Just as I took this piece of steel, and he puts the temper of Christ in us by testings and trials.."

"Ever since I saw this I have been saying to Him, "Lord test me any way you choose but don't throw me on the 'Scrap-heap' ".

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

EXPENSIVE LOYALTY!

Lesson for April 30, 1972

Background Scripture: Luke 24:45-49; John 17:6-23; Acts 13:1-3.

Devotional Reading: John 17:18-26.

In Foochow, China, according to E. Stanley Jones, there are three graves side by side all bearing the same last name, Two of these mark the burial place of two daughters of an Australian widow. They came to Foochow as Christian missionaries and were murdered to stop the work of Christ in that area.

Apparently the Australian widow did not think so, for at the age of 62 she sold all she had and went to Foochow, not for revenge or even justice, but to learn the language and give the remaining years of her life teaching school for Jesus Christ in that hostile land. She had given him a great deal already, but because she was committed to Christ without reservation, she thought it terms of Christ's need, not her own loss.

The widow knew that her life was committed to the Master. Therefore she sent her daughters to China instead of her good wishes and intentions. Later, instead of money, she sent herself. Her loyalty to Jesus Christ was expensive. The three tombstones in the Foochow cemetery offer mute testimony to that fact.

The cost of sending the gospel into the world is high. Jesus paid with his life and he warned his disciples that they should be prepared to pay the same cost. Jesus prayed: "As thou didst send me into the world, so I have sent them into the world" (John 17: 18). There is no cut-rate bargain-basement way of spreading the good news of Jesus Christ. There never will be.

They Were Worshipping

The writer of Acts tells us that "while they (the disciples) were worshipping the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, 'Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them'" (13:2). You might say, "How wonderful that God spoke to them in that way!" Yet that experience is not so rare as we might think. Don't you think God speaks to us that way while we are worshipping him? He does, you know, even though we may not listen to him. He is speaking to you, but you may not want to pay the price.
